After the Fair.

The Cattle Show and Fair have past. Thousands of people who visited the grounds last week came away dissatisfied. Undoubtedly the rain, frosty mornings and cold wind had something to do with this feeling of dissatisfaction. May be if the Association should listen to some of these complaints it would take measures to make their exhibitions what the public want. As it is it can do no harm to bring the matter before the attention of the directors.

It is a fact not easily disguised that the public do not care to put a day's time against fifteen cents worth of amusement and the Association cannot afford to give a show that is worth only five cents for fifteen cents. Nine per cent of those who attend fairs are more interested in the trotting than in the other sports. The trotting attracts more people on to the grounds than anything else. For trotting races "races" are sure to bring dissatisfaction. Isn't there some way we can have better trotting and a more satisfactory fair next year?

Our columns are open for discussion of this question. Let us hear from those interested.

Notes By the Way.

BY OUR TRAVELING CORRESPONDENT.

We left home Monday, Sept. 10th at 10 a. m. taking the overland route to N. H., and at 5 p. m. we found ourselves at Conway Center, where the genial Chase is ever ready to supply the wants of the weary traveler. Tarry with him until the morning, when at 7 we take up the line of march passing Conway Center across the Great Falls and Conway railway into the town of Albany. Judging from what we saw of the town in passing through it, we should look further before settling in it. We come next to "Kamworth Iron Works" whatever that means, for we see but little works of any kind. We pass in through Monticello, Center Harbor, Meredith Village to Meredith Center our objective point for the second day, where we propose to spend a few days in recreation and visiting.

Wednesday and Thursday we visit the Weirs, where the N. H. Veterans Association was holding a four days' encampment. There was quite a large gathering of the Veterans present, and an immense crowd of men, women and children, estimated at ten thousand or more. Friday we came to the realities of recreation and went fishing in the Bay, an arm of the Lake, reaching from Lacombe to Meredith Center some six miles in length. It is a very pretty sheet of water and a nice place to sail, row, or otherwise propel a boat, but for fishing it was not a success, for we only caught three bass and they all weren't more than a foot high. Saturday morning we had planned to start on our return but not feeling quite satisfied with the success of our fishing, we remained another day and another place. So we arranged our fishing tackle, packed our lunch, procured a guide and started for the pond where pickerel dwell. Our guide procured a boat and rowed us to the fishing grounds and we succeeded in catching a very fine string of fish. At 12 o'clock we repaired to a big rock on the Chase shore for refreshments. Our guide took a sapling from the forest and attaching a line thereto, sat on the rock fishing, which reminded us of a scene of ancient "Writ," where it is said, "His pole was made of the sturdy oak. His line was a cable the sun never broke. He baited his hook with a dragon's tail. And sat on a rock and bobbed for whale."

With this only difference, instead of whale he caught pickerel, and after a while he came down and sat on the rock, fishing, which reminded us of a scene of ancient "Writ," where it is said, "His pole was made of the sturdy oak. His line was a cable the sun never broke. He baited his hook with a dragon's tail. And sat on a rock and bobbed for whale."

Monday morning we embarked in the "Lady of the Lake" at Weirs landing for Wolfboro, where we stopped over one train to call on the Sanborn Bros. who are operating shovel handle machinery at that place. We had a very pleasant call and were cordially received and entertained by J. L. Sanborn who hitched up his team and took us to all the places of interest in the town. We took a train at 4 p. m. on Wolfboro Branch to the Junction, thence to Rochester where we stop for another visit.

Wednesday, Sept. 12th, we found an excursion train going from R. to the mountains, and receiving a very cordial invitation from several ladies who wished to go but had no male escort, we yielded and went. We shall not attempt to describe the scenery and the impression it had on us, as we will over the Ogdenburg road from North Conway to the Fay House, only to say it is magnificent and grand beyond description, and every person should take the trip once and see for themselves.

We arrived at the Fay House at 1:30 p. m., and took our baskets which the ladies had well filled with such things as they thought might want, and repaired to the mountain side for rest and refreshments. After dinner all sought for pleasure and sight seeing in their own way. We found one of the ladies of our party was a "news-piper correspondent" which naturally led us to look somewhat in the same direction for means of enjoying the passing hour. Accordingly we roamed among the rocks and ferns, gathering such specimens as were most attractive, and cutting initials on the granite rock. At 5 p. m. we hear the familiar call of the conductor, "all aboard" and soon we are being rapidly hurried over the declining grades of hill and down up mountain passes on our return to Rochester, arriving there at 9 p. m., where we are at home for the night. The next morning we take the 11 a. m. train at Rochester and at 3:30 p. m. are at home again once more. E. H. B.

Western Letter.

Oakbrook, Wis., Sept. 1883.

Mr. Editor:—We left Norway on the 3d. Arrived at Gorham, N. H. in the afternoon and found a number of Norway boys. We learn from Supt. Noyes, formerly a resident of your town, that a great portion of the repair work of the Grand Trunk railroad is done here. He says that his charges some 50 engines and over the pay-roll 115 men. By the kindness of Mr. G. Tubbs we took a ride and visited places of interest in this section. The mascot of mine, some 250 feet above the river on land of Esquire Hutchinson shows good specimens of ore.

We left Gorham the same night for Island Pond, Vt. and called on our old friend Dr. Pottle. We arrived in Montpelier the next morning at 7 o'clock, and after breakfasting at the St. James, we procured a hack and took a four hour ride and visit to the cathedral, the churches and took a view of the city from Mt. Royal. We spent an hour in the nursery and returned to our hotel.

We arrived in Chicago the following Friday, and via the Northwestern came to this city, the objective point of our journey. We found Brother J. H. Porter and daughter smart and full of fun as ever. Oshkosh is a large lumbering town, 300 miles from Chicago, Winnebago County or large lake of the same name. The population is some twenty thousand. It is here where the Great Wolf River and tributaries form Lake Poggan and Winnebago. Oshkosh is a smart business town and I find that a great portion of its solid business men are from the East. J. H. Porter, J. S. Holmes and C. Bent, son and son-in-law of the late E. A. Holmes, of Norway, are men well known in Paris. Mr. Porter gave us a ride behind "Black Prince" through the farming districts of Winnebago County including Algona and Omeo of Hustfield, Park and Waukau. The corn, except corn look well. Corn was damaged by the recent cold wave. Had the pleasure of seeing the farmers thrash by steam. One thousand bushels is a fair day's work. We visited the forty miles north, and saw the immense amount of lumber there. We dined at the Boom House. The great wonder at this place is the Artisan Well, some over ninety-two feet deep, that throws a four-inch stream of water eight feet above the level of the lake. The water is soft and pure as any spring water. We visited Ripon, 25 miles out, a very lively country village. The County Fair was in session. The games, amusements and articles were good. We witnessed the Mill-men and Loggers play a game of base-ball for the benefit of the Ladies Aid Society. Both nines were composed of the solid business men of the city and great interest was manifested in the playing. On the fourth inning the score stood 14 to 7 in favor of the Loggers. The receipts were $200 in favor of the ladies. We fear we are making this too long and will close.

North Waterford, Oct. 1st, 1883.

Mr. Editor:—I saw by your paper of the 28th ult., an item in regard to the game of ball played at Oxford, between the club of this place and the team of Oxford. I would like to make a few corrections. In the first place, the writer says the Keokos suffered the disadvantage of having to take a new man in the left field, to take the place of Chaplin. Mr. Davis was the new man, and is a better D. B. player than Mr. Chaplin ever thought of being, and I claim that he (Davis) was the best striker in their line, and made the first score that was made by either team. Further Mr. Robinson, Captain of the Keokos, told Mr. Hobson of No. Waterford nine, that Mr. Chaplin was the poorest player of the nine. I simply state these facts to let the public see what a disadvantage the Keokos labored under in taking in a new man. Further the writer says: "A. O. Traine has placed on his lot in the cemetery a very neat and tasty monument. It is made of an extraj piece of marble and adds much to the looks of his lot which has just been graded and other improvements made. We hope others will go and do likewise."

Rev. W. T. Traine, pastor of the Freeville Baptist Church, started for Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 1st, for the purpose of attending the General Conference, and there will be no services at that church the two following Sundays.

The farmers of Otisfield and vicinity are to hold a Cattle Show and Fair at South Otisfield, Saturday, Oct. 20th. All of Otisfield and vicinity are invited to contribute to the fair. The ladies of the town are invited to attend and are invited to attend. Drawing of cattle and horses, races and other amusements. If stormy the fair will be held Monday.

Calvin Haggood died Sept. 26th, aged 64 years. He has been in poor health for several years, had a lung fever, spring, and a fever in August last, lying nearly through Sept., which together with his dropsical tendencies carried him to his grave. Calvin has always shown a kindness of heart which made him an esteemed playmate in his youth and a valued friend in ripeness. He, assisted by his sister Maria, cared for and supported his parents in their old age without other compensation than the enjoyment of their society and the satisfaction of being able to care for them in their declining years. After the death of his parents he married a widow lady, Mrs. Mary J. Marr of Waterford, who is left to mourn his loss. Four of his sisters and his only brother, Artemas, of Harrison are yet living.

Several persons have been quite sick with dysentery, but all except Albion Noyes' 8 years old daughter are slowly recovering. A cholera morbus has been quite prevalent among us, although generally in a mild form, yet a few have been quite sick. One of the last is George Ellis, who is now considerable sick.

C. W. Bennett has sold the farm upon which he has lived for many years to Daniel T. Adams for $1,425.

Work at the steam mill is done for this season.

D. T. Adams set fire to a piece of felled timber on the south side of Wins Hill in the dryest part of Sept. at 10 o'clock, and in spite of the hands he had called together to keep it within proper bounds. It went at a lively pace over the summit of the hill to the little pond where it found peat enough to feed on for nearly two weeks, so that Daniel had a lively time. He showed commendable earnestness in fighting it back, so that it did very little damage except on his own lot. Daniel says he has learned a lesson now that he shall remember while he lives, and never shall start another fire out-of-doors in a very dry time.

Our veteran shoemaker, Robert W. Locklin, since finishing his harvesting is buying butter and eggs for the Portland market and selling fresh fish to his town-folks. This is a new line for Robert, but he appears handy, and we think he will succeed in making a fair business out of it if he does not get discouraged initially.

GREENWOOD.

Alden E. Shed dug one and one half bushels of potatoes. Austin Hayes dug twenty bushels in one half day at the Beauty of Hebron victory.

Benjamin Hays is quite lame caused by a hay rack falling and striking on his instep.

Isaac Hayes from Lewiston is visiting at I. F. Emmons. He is nearly 80 years of age and straight as an arrow.

Mrs. Martha Littlefield from Lewiston is visiting at D. G. Horrick's.

Rev. Seth Benson was to preach to us last Sabbath, but for some reason not known he failed to be present.

Sylvester Yates hauled a load of wood, Tuesday, Oct. 2d, a distance of nearly half a mile and says the sled ran as well as any time last winter.

Frank Willis has had the end of one of his fingers torn off in a portable grist mill.

Mrs. W. H. Martin has returned home from Massachusetts.

David Emmons from St. Johnsbury, Vt. is visiting his parents and friends. JOHN TOPHAM.

Mary, wife of John Martin, died Oct. 1st. For about twenty years she had been entirely blind.

E. C. Ambrose, esq., is about to remove to Florida.

Much sickness prevails in this vicinity, mostly among children.

The wife of our worthy postmaster, C. F. Durell, lately presented him with a bounding big boy.

Mollie, son of Mark Morse of E. Otisfield, narrowly escaped death from the accidental discharge of his gun while hunting a few days since. He is severely but not dangerously injured.

Joseph Farris of E. Oxford has a splendid calf 7 months old whose girth is 5 feet and 2 inches. For build and symmetry we hardly think he can be matched in the county.

MARK TAPLEY.

The ladies of the M. E. Church at Welchville have had their church kalendar renewed and repaired in a thorough manner by A. L. Faunce.

Levi Dingley of Casco recently sold one of his fox-hounds for twenty-five dollars.

Lewis Wardwell has gone to Stoneham, Mass. for good.

SILVAN DALE.

PARIS—District No. 5.

Fall term of school here closed last Saturday. Of the eighteen pupils in attendance, nine were not absent one half day, their names are as follows: Nellie F. Marshall, Mabel I. Rawson, Minnie G. Rawson, Sadie E. Bicknell, Lizzie F. Bird, Lillie M. Brooks, Charlie L. Duck, Percy E. Rawson, and Otis B. Rawson, while Martha Kimball, Winnie B. Marshall, Edna H. Hart, George Dicket, John Porter and George Bicknell missed only one whole day.

MASON.

The threshing machine has just been in the neighborhood and left a good record for our farmers in the amount of work done. A. O. Traine raised 35 bushels, N. N. Putnam 45, Horace Hutchinson raised on 12 acres 364 bushels besides 100 bushels of oats, but Alpheus Lovejoy took the premium in raising 37 bushels wheat on about 13 acres.

A. O. Traine has placed on his lot in the cemetery a very neat and tasty monument. It is made of an extraj piece of marble and adds much to the looks of his lot which has just been graded and other improvements made. We hope others will go and do likewise.

ANDOVER.

Mr. W. C. Harris of New York, editor of the American Angler, was a guest at the Andover House Monday, Sept. 24th. He has been exploring the Lakes to find what he calls "the best route to take with a trout." He has also been writing a book on the subject, and the attention of all sportsmen to the route via Andover.

Huskings are now in order. About last Saturday night, at Indian Rock, near the lakes, four inches fell with this route and says "the shall call the attention of all sportsmen to the route via Andover."

Signs of logging begin to show themselves. Turnout Brothers are logging on the Lake road.

The ladies of the M. E. Church held a Circle at the residence of Samuel Leonard, No. 4. A good attendance and a good time.

Last Sabbath the pulpit of the M. E. Church was filled by Rev. Mr. Dame, and that of the Congregational by Rev. Mr. Parlin.

Get out your overcoats and mittens. "A word to the wise" etc.

Several of our citizens attend the Cattle Show at Norway.

Last week closed the mails to the lakes.

We understand that Mr. Samuel Betton has purchased of Mr. H. D. Furling, the dwelling house near the post-office.

J. L. Ripley is rebuilding the mills lately burned. He is getting along in good shape.

Mr. Moses Cutting is quite sick. Samuel Clark is in town.

Hon. J. L. Chapman is visited by his niece, Miss Lilla Dresser of Salem, Mass.

LOVELL.

John Durgin has bought a fine cow of Fernando Tar a few days ago.

Oscar Brackett is buying butter and eggs for Lewiston parties.

Geo. L. Whitehouse, the veteran bear hunter, can be seen almost daily roaming the forest with his gun and little dog.

By the removal of A. P. Bassett and wife to Norway, we lose and they gain a most honorable citizen.

Heald and Walker, the well known cattle buyers, passed through this vicinity a few days ago.

The stage from the village to North Lovell will be driven by the coming week by John Farington.

Mr. J. S. Small, the veteran peddler, made his usual trip through this vicinity one day last week. He is a very kind and accommodating person and if any one wants a favor they will always find him ready.

We had quite a heavy fall of snow here the 2d inst.

Mr. Seth Hutchins has lately fixed up his stand at No. 4, which greatly improves the looks of his place.

Mrs. Wiley at the village, has just returned from a two days' visit to dress making.

Mrs. E. A. Kimball at No. 4 has gone to Boston to buy her fall stock of millinery and fancy goods. ELGERA.

BOLSTER'S MILLS.

Moors Hancock died after a brief confinement to his house, on Saturday Oct. 6th, aged 71 years, 8 months and 2 days. Mr. Hancock has been doing business in this place about forty years as a merchant, has served in various offices in the town in which he lived, Otisfield, and has been postmaster in this place for several years past. He has been a member of the Congregational Church for many years and took an interest in the social and moral reforms of the day. Funeral services, conducted by Rev. A. Lovell, were held on Sunday p. m. at the church, which was filled in every part by those who held their fair in the church. All show their respect for the deceased.

Mrs. F. Chute and Mrs. C. E. Stuart and daughter have returned from their visit to Mass., after spending two weeks very pleasantly.

A petition has been circulated in this vicinity for the appointment of George Hancock as postmaster in place of his father deceased.

There is to be a Fair and Cattle Show at this place, on Thursday the 18th, under the direction of Crooked River Grant. All are invited to attend and exhibit their stock, produce, and other articles to add to the interest of the occasion. If the day is stormy the fair will be held the next pleasant day.

O. V. Edwards and his father, who have carried the U. S. mail over the "Crooked River" road, this place, have closed their contract, and Mr. Davis now sends a team from his place with the mail.

Rev. L. W. Raymond of Harrison is attending the General Conference of the P. E. Baptist Church in Minneapolis, Minn., as a delegate to that body.

SNOWS FALLS.

A few nights since the barn belonging to J. S. Clapp, esq., and occupied by George Mason was entered and a valuable harness, the property of Mr. Clapp, was stolen. Mr. Mason was on the alert and at an early hour had the complete measure of the thief's foot, also that of his horse, and measure of wagon track; and accompanied by Mr. Henry, they resolved themselves into a detective force and taking the trail followed the thief to Belvidere. The harness together with a lot of belting taken from Messrs. Hammond & Cole's saw-mill, was found in the barn occupied by Samuel Golt, whom they had arrested, and fairly bagged, confessed the crime. The next day he was arraigned at the March term of court, in the County jail.

DIXFIELD.

There is to be a Band concert at Grange Hall, Oct. 17th.

Deferred from last week.

young people cannot see it. The next meeting will be held in two weeks from last Friday, at a place to be hereafter named.

Repairing in general seems to be going on. The M. E. church is receiving a new coat of paint inside; the Congregational is receiving a new coat of shingles and will be repaired inside, also the vestry will be resingled; the academy is likewise receiving a new coat after the trustees finally concluded to have it done; Captain Bradbury is preparing to shingle the west wall of his stable; A. O. Pike is tearing down and remodeling; Charles Loebe has done some more toward finishing his house, and E. P. Weston is having his store painted.

Rev. J. K. Mason will be absent from his pulpit the two succeeding Sabbaths.

Mr. Albert F. Richardson, who has been quite ill, is sufficiently recovered to resume his duties at the academy.

SOUTH WATERFORD.

Mrs. Dorr has returned from her visit to Boston with improved health.

Mr. Chas. Young and family and his brother-in-law, Mr. Savage of Boston, who have been visiting their old friends in Waterford, have just returned.

Mr. Horr finds a few apples to evaporate but more to grind, pumpkins being numerous he substitutes them for evaporating apples.

Mr. Charles Munroe of Kansas, is visiting his brother Josiah at the present.

Mrs. Louisa Hamlin is visiting her sons in Louisiana.

WEBB'S MILLS.

Two new stores have been opened by John Berry and W. F. & C. Duran.
